

Remote Deposit Capture

Technology crafted to enhance your business banking relationship.

Remote Deposit Capture is a new technology which utilizes desktop hardware and software, installed in your place of business, enabling you to “capture” images of checks you receive; and to subsequently send those images to the bank in lieu of a traditional trip to the bank. This technology was designed to create convenience and safety for business owners regarding check clearing and is now available as a result of the 21st Century Act, also known as Check 21.

This new technology provides a host of benefits and is simple to implement in your office. The obvious initial benefit is that it allows you to make deposits electronically rather than to make a trip to the bank with a physical check, saving time and effort of your personnel.

- Liberty First Bank will provide hands-on installation of hardware and software, as well as employee training
- Daily processing of checks received becomes easier and less time-intensive for your personnel, eliminating trips to the bank.
- Images of all received checks provides a means of verifying received funds.
- Daily reports are provided which detail the dollar amount of each check received along with details, streamlining your Accounts Receivable department
- You will enjoy enhanced cash flow. This service allows your checks to be deposited throughout your business day as time permits.
- You may make deposits at any time during the day.
- You will have access to paperless files created by which include an electronic file of each transmitted deposit item, supplementing your daily deposit reports.
